Cleveland and Hill.

In the course of his argument, Mr. Morgan remarked incidentally that one of the consequences of the defeat of free silver legislation would be the nomination of Gereland; but Mr. George interposed the remark that he had doubts about that. He also referred to Mr. Sherman as being in the lead of a large faction of the democratic party of the United States as well as of the republican party.

Mr. Morgan referred to Cleveland as laving come to the presidency with a sort of Wall-street congestive chill upon him, as commencing to prophesy evil; and as throwing the whole weight of his administration against silver, beginning with the letter which he addressed to members of congress before his inauguration, in which he begged them, by all the saints in the calendar, to suppress and destroy after colarge.

In conclusion Morgan said that he would it the act of 1890 stand, but he would nake it compulsory on the secretary of the reason to coin silver bullion purchased. If the senators could only forget Cleveland and Hill and Carlisle and Cullom and Allison and other great and good men, who see asyning to the presidency of the United States, and the honorable senator from Ohio (Air. Sherman), if he had not discarded all such pretensions—if the senator could discard their friendliness for dee asynants, and would come together a local their hands on the silver question and deroted love of country suggested, there would be no more trouble about the silver question.

Three Texas Lynchers Fall in Their Appeal to the Supreme Court.

Washington, April 4.—In the United States supreme court today, the conspiracy case against Waggoner, Wallace and Logan, from Texas, was decided against the three named defendants. They forme! a part of a lynching party which attempted to take from United States officers four brothers, named Marlow, who had surrendered to the officers, and who were being transferred from one county to another for safer custody. Although the Marlows were manacled, they showed fight to such good purpose that they wrested the arms from their assailants and drove them off. Two of the Marlow brothers were killed and the other two wounded, and several of the lynchers were left on the battlefield. Waggoner, Wallace and Logan, with others, were indicted for conspiracy, and convicted under a section of the revised statutes, providing that if two or more persons or nspire to intimidate any ciuzen in the free exercise of any right given him by the constitution, they shall be liable to trial, and, on conviction, to punishment by a fine of $5,000 and imprisonment for not exceeding ten years. The maximum penalty of the law was imposed. The case came before the supreme court on an appeal from the United States court for the northern district of Texas.

Middletown, N. Y., April 4.—The enumerators recently engaged in taking the state census ran across some curious facts of a personal nature. Enumerator A. C. Wolcott, of Oneonto, found in that town' a Mrs. Betsey Wattkeys, a life-long resident, aged ninety-one years, who had never traveled beyond the town limits or entered a stage coach, railroad car or other public conveyance. stage coach, railroad car or other public conveyance.

In the town of Warrensburg was found a family of several generations. The youngest member was aged three months and named Ada Chandler. The child's mother, Mrs. Frederick Chandler, was not yet fitteen years old. The child's grandmother, Mrs. John Allen, was aged thirty years, and the child's great-grandmother, Mrs. Oscar Green, was not yet forty-five.

In the first election district of the town of Middletown, Delaware county, having a scanty rural population, were found three old women who are remarkable specimens of healthy longevity. They were Mrs. Mary J. Bassett, aged ninety-seven and Mrs. Helen Hallenback, aged ninety-seven and Mrs. Helen Hallenback, aged ninety-seven and Mrs. Helen Hallenback, aged ninety-seven son longevity came from the town of Thompson, which lies high up among the mountains of Sullivan county. Thompson has a total population of 3,482 souls, of which 132 are between seventy and eighty years old, forty-two are between eighty and ninety years, and three are over ninety years.

A COTTON REPORT

New Orleans, April 4.—The chief supervisor of the cotton exchange reports the total loss by yesterday's fire as 30,000 bales and in addiby yesterday is not as out to bailed and in addition 4,000 bales are badly damaged, but the extent of the loss on the latter is yet uncertain. No change will be made in the stock total here on account of the fire, until an actual approximation, if not actual figures of the entire loss, can be obtained.

The actual average weight of the 7,592,862 bales of cotton crop embracing port receipts and overland for seven months ending March 31st, 500 56-100 against 503 64-100 pounds perbale last year. Detailed averages are as follows: Texas 521 21-100, a decrease from last year of 9 29-100; Louislana 499 21-100, a decrease from 256-100; Alabama 498, decreased 10; Georgia 484 11-100, a decrease of 17-100; South Carolina 498, a decrease of 3; North Carolina 494 37-100, an increase of 3 37-100; Tennessee including Memphis, St. Louis and overland, 50 69-100, a decrease of 1 78-100; net decrease for the whole compared with the close of February this year, 5 3-100 pounds per bale and compared with the close of March lastlyear, 5 38-100.

Several Houses Blown Down and Two Persons Killed.

Kansas City, Mo., April 4.—A special to The Star from Cherryvale, Kas., says the country a mile east of Cherryvale was struck by a tornado about 10 o'clock last night and half a dozen houses were demolished, two people, names unknown, being killed. In Cherryvale a woman was killed by lightning, but the wind did not touch the town. Dexter, in Cowley county, is also reported to have suffered from the wind. The Western Union wires are down. Indications point to the probability of another wind storm before night. The barometer is steadily falling, the sky is brassy and a strong south wind is blowing. An inky, black cloud is said to be hanging over the section southwest of Arkansas City, and the local weather bureau predicts more storms. Two additional deaths have occurred at Towanda from injuries received in Tuesday night's storm.

MRS. MONTAGUE'S SENTENCE.

Imprisonment at Hard Labor for One Year for Killing Her Child.

Dublin, April 4.—Mrs. Annie Montague, of the Cronmore house, Londondery, who was tried here today under indictment for causing the death of her three-year-old daughter by cruel treatment, and for cruelty to three other children under fourteen years of age, was convicted of manslaughter, and sentenced to imprisonment for one year at hard labor.

Charlotte Criminal News.

Charlotte, N. C., April 4.—Jomes Moran, the policeman who was shot by a negro Saturday morning, diel last night. There is no clue to his assassin. Of the six prisoners who escaped from the Charlotte jail Friday all but one was recaptured. Bob Pharr resisted arrest at Spartanburg and was shot and killed. The prisoner still missing is John Boyd, the negro charged with train wrecking.

She Was Overloaded.

St. Petersburg, April 4.—It is reported here that a steamer bound from the Persian coast for Baku in the Black sea, with 200 passengers and a cargo of cotton, has been lost with all aboard. It is said that the disaster was due to the fact that the steamer was greatly overloaded.

SPRINGER IN THE

He Is Given a Warm Reception by His Fellow Members.

TOM WINN, OF THE NINTH DISTRICT.

Will Come Home for an Indefinite Pe riod to Repair the Gaps in His Political Fences.

Washington, April 4.—(Special.)-Colonel Livingston will leave here Thursday night for Atlanta.

He will confer with some of the demo crats of the fifth at the Markham house Friday night, and on Saturday he will speak at Conyers.

Then he will speak at Jonesboro, on Tuesday, instead of Thursday, and on Wednesday at Douglasville. Thursday the 14th he will spend in Atlanta, at a meeting of the executive committee, and with the committee which has charge of The Southern Alliance Farmer. Colonel Livingston says he is not going on a fighting trip, but will make speeches in which he will endeavor to convince the farmers of the error they will make by going into a third party.

Colonel Livingston is still earnest in his efforts to have a' free coinage bill adopted. He says the feeling in favor of a free coinage bill is reviving in both houses and the friends of the white metal are by no means hopeless. Mr. Springer Reappears. Mr. Springer made his appearance in the house today for the first time since the tariff debate opened. He looks very badly yet, and was too unwell to deliver his speech. He however, occupied his seat behind a desk covered with a mass of flowers, while Mr. Bryan stood at his side, and read the speech, Mr. Springer, as usual, wore a bright red rose, he had of his coming, and nearly every member wore one in the lapel of his coat. When he came into the hall every man arose, and applauded, and when Mr. Bryan finished reading his speech, all ulate him. Mr. Springer is not well enough yet to get down to actual work. He went down to Fortress Monroe tonight to recuperate. The vote on the tariff bill will be taken tomorrow. E. W. B.

The people's party crowd has been waiting for Colonel Livingston to come over and take a stand among them.

They have stood, and with outheld, imploring hands, uttered the Macedonian cry, "Come over and help us."

But the colonel has not come.

And he is not coming.

It took a long time for the people's party leaders to understand this. They fondly hoped he would come, and they waited with a Job-like patience.

Most of them waited with hands off, not daring to criticise Colonel Livingston's course—waited to welcome him.

course—waited to welcome him.

The Southern Alliance Farmer took no decided stand against him—it waited too.

But the clear and forcible challenge of Colonel Livingston, the announcement of his dates, the fact that he was coming right away left no room for doubt. They had to harvey.

And yesterday's issue of The Southern Alliance Farmer contained the first editorial attack upon Colonel Livingston's proposed speech at Douglasville. That is a sore point with the third partyites, and naturally enough it was taken up first. The editorial expressed regret that the colonel should have taken the stand he has. It predicted lively times at the Douglasville meeting.

Post and Moses.

Colonel C. C. Post wants to talk. He has to talk; it is a constitutional failing with him. He has to talk a great deal, and he loves to talk back at the other fellow. This aptitude for talking may get Colonel Post into some places where he will have to talk a great deal to get out. Quite recently it has been an ambition of Colonel Post's to outtalk some Georgia congressman, who refused to swallow the third party platform. He has his eye on Colonel Livingston and Colonel Moses.

"I'd like to talk to those chaps," said he, "and I'll do it."

Believing in his ability as a talker he goes down to Carrollton thus morning to meet Hon. C. L. Moses, who speaks there today.

No arrangements have been made for meet Hon. C. L. Moses, who speaks there today.

No arrangements have been made for such a meeting, but the third partyites of Carroll invited Colonel Post down, and it's likely that there'll be some fun.

Moses and Post—they're two game fighters and the air will be full of fuss and feathers if they got on the same stage. Tomorrow's Meeting.

The Fulton county alliance meets in the basement of the county courthouse to-basement of the county courthouse tomorrow.

And a powerful effort will be made to commit the meeting to the third party.

It will be just as powerfully fought.

"There will be an effort to endorse the third party," said Mr. W. A. Starnes, yesterday, "but we will defeat it. They will do everything in their power to down us.

There will be lively times, "thess."

Colonel Peek at Sylvania.

Colonel Peek at Sylvania.

Colonel Peek has begun his campaign in earnest. He leaves tonight for south Georgia where he will deliver third party speeches, beginning tomorrow at Sylvania, in Screven county.

"There will be over three thousand people there to hear me," is the way Colonel Peek puts it, "and I am going to make the biggest effort of my life."

He will probably speak at one or two other places before he returns.

It is understood that Colonel Post and other third party orators will be on hand at all of Colonel Livingston and Colonel Moses's appointments to jointly debate with these gentlemen.

A Special Train.

A Special Train. A special Train.

A special train will probably be run to Donglasville on the 13th to the big joint debate there.

The officials of the Georgia Pacific are discussing the matter.

Anyway they are preparing to carry big crowds. A circular with the glaring headlines, "Democracy vs. Third Party," and embellished with the pictures of Livingston, Peek, Post, Moses and Ellington, is being issued.

to be held and none of these are of much importance.

The democrats have finished their large gatherings, but some small ones will be held in various parts of the state tonight and tomorrow night. Both parties elaim to be confident of the result, but indications point to the election of a republican majority in the legislature. The state ticket is likely to fail of election with the democrats securing a plurality of the votes cast, which will, however, be of ne avail in case of the election of a republican legislature. SenatorAldrich considers the outlook very satisfactory for the republicans and hopes they will receive a plurality tote for state officers, as this will be taken and hopes they will receive a plurality tote for state officers, as this will be taken and hopes they will be to the presidential election, which is by plurality instead of majority, as in the state contest. The democrats claim that a plurality vote on state officers is assured them and that they hope for a majority, too, as well as the balance of power in the legislature.

Salmon. Id., April 4.—(Special.)—Suspicion for some time has been directed against a mily named Harvey as being the perpetrate of a number of stage robberies. The facility consisted of Harvey, his wife and six daughters. A trap was laid into which the sugar robbers fell and all were captured, proving to be Harvey's six daughters in men's clothes. When the arrest was made one of the girls weakened arrest was made one of the girls weaker and told the whole stor. She said she never I'ked work and was glad they were caught. They were trained to it by their father and mother and the proceeds shipped east for sale so as not to excite sus-picion in the country. Their show of force had always made violence unnecessary and none was ever used.

Foreclosing a Mortgago Birmingham, Ala., April 4.—(Special.)—
The famous Henderson steel works, the pioneer steel-working enterprise of Alabama, were sold at public outcry this morning to satisfy a vender's lien held by the North Birmingham Land Company for the land on which the plant was built. The sale does not include the patent, but the plant foreclosed cost over fifty thousand dollars when the company was first formed, and had a capital stock of $20,000. The stock sold at $800 per share of $100. The concern was making money when the Bessemer rolling mill failed and carried the steel works down with it.

Jones Carries Eufaula.

Eufaula, Ala., April 4.—The primary election of delegates to the county convention, which convenes at Clayton on the 6th, took place here today, which resulted in 280 majority in favor of Jones for governor, and Pruitt for judge of probate. The beaten officers were H. McGough, S. Stern, H. Shorter and F. Bloodworth, for justice of the peace; J. H. Evans and O. S. Wells, for constable, resulting in the election of McGough, Stern and Evans. Several altercations took place, which resulted in nothing serious.

AND SKIPS WITH A BIG SUM OF MONEY.

Special Detective Wooster Traces the Young Man to Macon and Arrests Him Early This Morning.

Francis Couch, the second son of ex-Chief of Detectives E. F. Couch, was arrested at Macon shortly after 1 o'clock this morning. Today an officer will leave to bring him back to Atlanta. .

He is wanted here by the Southern Express Company—the concern for which he had been working for two years past.

Four years ago the young boy, then barely sixteen years of age, took up the study of shorthand. He made a quick, apt pupil, in perfect accord with his brightness, and very easily mastered the intricacies of the

In the latter part of 1889 the Southern Express Company, to whom he applied for a position, recognized the boy's ability and gave him a place in the office as stenogra-

There young Couch had every opportunity to show himself, and availed himself of the chance. He did good work, and very quickly earned a promotion.

A short time ago, when the robbery at Collier's station took place, an armed force from the express company's employ was detailed to work on some of the cars. In charge of one of these was none other than young Couch. During the past winter, the company further gave evidence of its confidence in him. The strike of the expressmen caused a large number of vacancies. One of these was filled by the young man, who immediately gave satisfaction. It was through the familiarity with the employes of the company and its business that Couch was given the opportunity of making the break that will eventually land him behind prison bars. Yesterday morning he met one of the delivery wagons as it was going its rounds.

He hailed it and the driver, always cautious as to who occupies the seat with him, stopped and allowed the young man to ride. A few pulnates later the driver dis-mounted to deliver a package. He was gone a short while and when he returned found Couch gone. To that fact but little attention was paid at first. But later in the morning a valuable package was discovered to be missing.

It contained $290 in money and immediate It was strengthened when a search failed to locate the young man. Special Detective Wooster was detailed upon the case and ascertained that Couch had skipped and that two of his friends were with him.

Yesterday afternoon Wooster left lanta in search of the missing expressman He traced the young man to Macon, and shortly after midnight this morning suceeded in arresting him there. Louis Cocknell and a young man named

Gray were with him, and all three were taken into custody. When searched, $261 in money was recovered. In addition to that, tickets to Savannah were found in their possession. They had evidently been bound for the Forest City.

The connection of Cocknell and Gray in the matter is undoubtedly due to a long and intimate acquaintance between them and young Couch. A short time ago they were arrested by the latter's father, then chief of detectives, on the charge of enticing young Francis away from he officer will be sent to the Central City this morning to bring back the erring young men. Then Dr. Brown presented, in behalf of Mr. Motes, a large photograph of Colonel John Milledge, the first captain and organizer of the company. The picture is, indeed, a handsome one, and is a valuable gift. The applause which followed the pretty speech Dr. Brown made, in which he took occasion to pay very high tribute of praise to "the gallant Milledge," told in no uncertain way how very much the Guards esteemed this picture.

When the cheering ceased, Colonel Milledge himself arose and, thanking the members for their kind regards, said he had a pleasant duty to perform in presenting, also at the instance of Mr. Motes, the clever photographer, another picture, and he held up a large photograph, nicely framed, of Captain John Miller. It was a splendid likeness, and the members of the Guards testified their appreciation with prolonged cheering.

In presenting these pictures which Mr. Motes had given, reference was made to his career as a soldier. He was a member of the old Troup Artillery, and was one of the bravest soldiers who wore the cloth of gray, and braved death on the battlefield.

General Beauregard Will Not Be in Atlanta on Memorial Day.

General P. G. T. Beauregard has been invited by Colonel W. L. Calhoun to be in Atlanta on Memorial Day, and to participate in the Memorial Day, and to participate in the Memorial Day exercises.

But the old general cannot come, so he writes to Colonel Calhoun.

This announcement will be received with regret by Atlanta veterans, who know that the number of veterans in these memorial processions grows slimmer and slimmer year by year.

General Beauregard writes as follows:

New Orleans, April 2.—Colonel W. L. Calhoun, President of the Veterans' Association, etc., Atlanta, Ga. Dear Sir: I thank you for your kind invitation of the 20th ultimo, to be present at the observance of Memorial Day in your city on the 20th instant. It would afford me much gratification to meet there so many of my old companions-in-arms, but the condition of my health will deprive me of that great pleasure. Please present to them my kindest regards and my best wishes for their prosperity. I remain sincerely yours, G. T. BEAUREGARD.

The elite of Atlants, Jewish society was present, and the affair was brilliant and enjoyable.

Music was furnished by Wurm's orchestra, and the merry dancers remained until a late hour at night.

Refreshments were served, and a splendid speech was delivered by Hon. Simon Wolf, of Washington, D. C., who is greatly interested in orphan home work.

Mr. Lewis Newelt acted as master of ceremonles, and the reception committee was composed of Joseph Hirsch, Fred Schiff, H. Cronhelm, David Kaufmann, Isaac Liebman, Jr., Albert Steiner.

Floor Committee—Harry Hanlien, Monroe Bickart, Allim Weilhouse, Joé Menko, Marcus Stern. Stern.

Quite a handsome sum was netted for the nome, and a most delightful time was had.

STEVE RYAN WILL GET AIR When the Hearing of Auditor Peoples

Begins. Mr. Henry C. Peeples, auditor of the Ryan case, is expected back from New York tonight, and will probably begin the hearing of the famous case on Thursday.

The hearing will take up at least two weeks, probably longer.

Steve Ryan will be given an airing during the trial, as his presence will be required to testify. He will probably not object to the length of the rial.

The trial will probably be held in the state library, and the main issue to be settled in the distribution of the money.

THE UNIFORM SYSTEM AGAIN.

This Time It Springs in a Rather Inte log Shape.

A rather interesting feature of the police uniform gastern has aprunt up.

The detectives think that they are "211," and have acted accordingly. A few days ago, they went to flirsch Bros., who have the contract for the uniforms, and made application for citizens; clothes amouning to $17.75, the price to be paid for each patrolman's suit and heimet.

The matter was referred to Captain Brotherton. He was in doubt as to what to do, and the whole question has been left to City Attorney Goodwin. The detectives are in the meanwhile eagerly awaiting his decision.

There was a terrible gash in the back of his head, and his face was badly cut and bruised. The negro was unconscious when found. The ambulance carried him to the Providence infirmary, where his injuries were dressed.

Later in the night he regained sensibility, and stated that he was set upon and attacked by unknown parties. He is in a dangerous condition.

The Work of Incendiaries. Raleigh, N. C., April 4.—(Special.)—A special states that the large tobacco packing house of C. A. Young, in Wilson county, was burned last night by incendiaries, causing a loss of $9,000, with only $5,000 in surance. A road ran through the Young farm, and across this he had built some gates. These were torn down by some desperate men, who posted notices that if the gates were replaced they would do Young further damage. The gates were replaced, and the men fired the packing house, in which was a large quantity of tobacco.

Three Ladies Drowned. Bristol, Tenn., April 4.—(Special.)—A telegram from Charles F. Palmer, at Saltville, this morning, announces the death by drowning yesterday afternoon of Misses Carrie and Mattie Musset-White, daughters of Mr. Worley Musset-White, and their little four-year-old niece, supposed to be a daughter of Mr. G. V. Mitchell. Worley Musset-White lives near the old river saltworks, on the North Fork, about two miles or less from Saltville station.

The three were in a canoe, endeavoring to cross the river, and were drowned by the capsizing of the canoe.

More Quiet in Buenos Ayres Buenos Ayres, April 4.—The excitement that has prevailed here for some days past in consequence of fears that the radicals are about to attempt the overthrow of the government, is quieting down and it is believed the decisive action of the anthorities in ordering to the circular detachments. lieved the decisive action of the authorities in ordering to the city large detachments of artillery and cavalry has had the effect of putting a damper on any revolutionary ideas entertained by the radicals. Today telegraphic and postal communication was restored, and save for the unusually large number of soldiers about the streets the city wears its normal aspect. It is believed no further trouble need be anticipated.

The Central men said that they were both sorry and glad to go. They had formed a strong attachment for Atlanta but they wanted to get back to the land of shrimps and artillery punch.

Captain V. E. McBee will act as general manager until after the election of a new board of directors next month, it is said. His appointment has not been officially announced, but he said to a friend in Savannah that he would remain until the election. What will occur after that, no one can tell.

The traveling freight agents who were summoned here last week to meet Major whitehead, the acting traffic manager, he their conference, got fresh instructions are off again.

The Central needs all the good will that can be thrown to it. With a dull traffic season coming on, and an average of $666,000 in obligations falling due each month for the rest of the year, we management of the Central has no easy job on hend financiering the road.

It is said that Captain McBee has saved the Central $600,000 since he took hold. The expenses of the operating department are now at the minimum.

MR. COMER IS PRESIDENT.

He Is Not Holding the Place for Anybudy, Savannah, Ga., April 4.—(Special.)—Ever since the election of Mr. H. M. Comer to the presidency of the Central, there has been much talk about it being his intention to withdraw in favor of Captain Raoul at the next election. The fact that Mr. Comer and Captain Raoul are closest friends gave a semblance of truthfulness to the story, which has since become accepted by many, in Savannah and elsewhere in the state as a fact. It is not true, however, and time a fact. It is not true, however, and the idea should be banished from the minds of all. At the last meeting of the directors, President Comer positively disclaimed that there was any such intention on his part.

"The present programme," said one of the board this morning, "is for the entire board of directors to stand for re-election, with Mr. Comer for president. There is not the slightest reason to believe that the programme will be changed. Of coarse, there is nothing to prevent the introduction of another ticket in the field, if the stock-holders see fit to do so. Mr. Comer is eminently satisfactory to the conservative minority interest, and will make a fine executive. He would not have accepted the presidency merely for a month or six weeks. The understanding, when he was induced to take the office, was that it was to be a permanent matter, at least so far as we could make it. We believe the stock-holders will sustain us in that, and that he will be re-elected.

"The election," he continued, "will take place May 16th, one month and ten days from today. Judge Speer prefers not to postpone it, and there is little belief now that he will do so. After the election, if the president of the board is re-elected, it can resolve itself from receivers into directors again, go to the court and tell it that it is now able to conduct the road properly without the court's protection, guarantee proper protection to all interests, and as that they be discharged as temporary Teceivers. This is what will be done."

"The temporary receivership will be short lived, then?"

"Yes; we do not believe it will be in greitence two months from now."

he Charge Made Against a Young Man in Carroll County.

Carrollion, Ga., April 4.—(Special.)—Sheriff Jim Hewitt "pulled" John Lee, a young man living at Baming, for shooting into a passenger train some weeks ago. The mixed train, usually called the "Belle," that leaves Carrollion early in the morning from Griffin and gets back to Carrollton about 9 o'clock at night has been abot into and rocked a number of times in the last six months between Newman and Carrollton. One night some days ago John Lee and another young man, who has since ran away and gone to Texas, shot several times into the passenger coaches of this mixed train, and Captain Jim Harris, the conductor, at the time, aw them at the shooting and recognized Lee and his pal and a warrant was sworn out with the above result. Lee says he did not do the shooting but his pal did, and he also says his pal has gone to Texas.

Macon, Ga., April 4.—(Special.)—Considerable excitement was caused in East Macon Saturday evening over the supposed loss of little Robert Balkum, the six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Balkum. The little fellow went down to the river to witness a balloon ascension, and, becoming weary, laid down and went to sleep. Night coming on and the child not being seen, the neighborhood was aroused, and a seach was instigated. When found, he was taking an afternoon nap near the banks of the Occuligee.

There is no protection—no safeguard. Possibly an efficient weather service will warn us a few hours ahead of the approach of these storms, but that is about all we can hope for. Fortunately, even in our most disastrous years, only about one person in 60,000 is killed in this way, and the property destroyed does not materially retard the increasing wealth of the country. The Charleston Goldbug Organ.

The News and Courier says it has no desire to prolong the controversy with The Constitution and will not do so. Our contemporary treats its willful effort to misrepresent the democrats of the south too politely by half. To call it a "controversy" is to give it a dignity that can never attach to such an effort.

The whole purpose of The News and Courier in making an attack on The Constitution and spreading it out in the Associated Press is to encourage the efforts of Wall street and the mugwumps to force Mr. Cleveland on the party in the face of the fact that his nomination would precipitate a fatal split in the party in the south and wherever the Farmers' Alliance has any influence. If Clevelandism can carry its point, the democratic party may go to the old boy. Mr. Cleveland himself is both innocent and virtuous, but his views suit those of the Wall street element, and they pro pose to use him as a stalking horse to kill out opposition to republican financial legislation. The site and center of the present Cleveland movement is Wall

The boldness of The News and Courie is characteristic. It has the courage of its national bank connections. It requires a good deal of native gall for a news paper professing to be democratic to endorse the republican demonetization of silver in a state where the democratic party has declared in favor of free coinage; but something more than gall is necessary to drive the same newspaper into a declaration that the southern democrats are not in favor of free coinage and that their representatives in congress are misrepresenting them in the matter. The News and Courier pretends that t was engaged in a controversy with The Constitution. Its real purpose was to break the force of the facts set forth by The Constitution. To do this it had to go beyond the mark it pretended to be aiming at; it had to say that the democrats of the south are not for free coinage: and it left the inference to be crawn by northern democrats who are toadving to Wall street that the people here are in sympathy with the purposes of the money power. It is no wonder that The News and Courier now says it will not prolong the controversy with The Cou-

Yet our contemporary need not suppose that any statement of facts by The Constitution or any other newspaper can touch or turn the purpose of the Wall street democrats. It is useless to tell them that an attempt to suppress the silver issue is dangerous, or that the nomination of an anti-silver man will prove ruinous. Such information only confirms their purpose. They plainly tell the democrats of the rest of the country that they are ready to break up the party onthe free coinage issue. They will not hear to any compromise. They feel that they are masters of the situation. A break in the party in the south will only the more surely play into their hands, for they were Wall street agents before they were democrats. If they are not permit ted to dictate the platform and candidate of the party they are perfectly willing to see it go to pieces, for, in that event, republican financial legislation, dear to Wall street, is sure to be perpetuated

Coming to the end of the matter, we should like to know whether The Charles ton News and Courier cares more for its republican goldbug doctrine than it does for the democratic party? Southern Negroes in New York. A few weeks ago several colonies of southern blacks on their way to Africa were stranded in New York city, where their suffering excited general pity and indignation. Now, we have another chapter, as bad if not worse than the first. A railroad now being constructed through the Adirondacks has drawn a crowd of negroes from Tennessee to do the heavy work, and these unfortunates have been reduced to extremities by their hardships and the rigorous climate. The Syracuse Journal states that fully 500 negroes are stranded between Syracuse and Albany. They report the most brutal outrages on the part of the contractors in the shape of extortion, robbery, cruelty and even murder. The Journal says: At Schenectady, sixteen miles out from Al At Schenectady, sixteen miles out from Albany, was found a batch of fourteen negroes, huddled together like shivering sheep, in an old woodshed. This was the first group of refugees to be found up the line. To paint a pen picture of the scene would be absolute folly on the part of the writer; to the strongest details would only breed distrust in a reader's mind. Imagine, if you can fourteen tall negroes, with flesh shrunken and eyes set deep in their heads from hunger. The glassy eyes, red with famine, fatigue, sleeplessness and cruelty. Not one is decently covered with the vermin-infested rags, which they wear, to protect them from even the covered with the vermin-intested rigs, which they wear, to protect them from even the mildness of a soft spring Picture, if you can, the terrible anguish which these creatures of the southland must endure in their semi-naked

The negroes are shoeless, frost-bitten and hungry. One of them, who had shot railway guard in self-defense told the reporter the following story:

I am the man who shot the English guard, Hitchcock. I had been ill the day prior to the shooting, and tried to be excused. Instead of being given a rest, the guard picked up a spade which lay be side him and whacked ne several times about the head and shoulers. I bore the pain of the blows as well as could at the time, but the next day, when he burly fellow tried to brain me with the attend of his winchester, I pulled the gun om his hand and shot him dead where he lead. Then I broke for the woods, and a nowd of men followed me. Most of them are captured and taken back to the works, by those you see here escaping with me. I we no idea how any of the others escaped, It must have been through the mercy of cood God. The at last answered our prayeporter the following story:

ragged old pants you see me wearing—and they are as good as when I bought them—I was charged $7 on the books. For these twenty-five-cent suspenders I was charged $2. These old patched brogans on my feet cost me $5 at the store. About the food, did you say? No civilized human being could call it food. For breakfast we got one piece of filthy bread, smeared with vile molasses, worth about five cents a gallon, retail price. For dinner we were flung a small piece of For dinner we were flung a small piece of partially boiled and very fat salt pork. For supper the dose of so-called bread and mo-lasses was repeated.

The victims were enticed from their homes near Columbia, Tenn., by promises of $1.50 per day and good board at $1.50 a week. They went to New York jubilant, but it is uncertain whether they will live to see Tennessee again. Deceived. fleeced and persecuted, they are worse off than the Jews in Russia, notwithstand ing the fact that they are surrounded by millions of people who profess to make the welfare of the negro race one of their most cherished objects.

If matters do not mend, the south will have to organize a crusade against the oppressors of the black race in the north.

The Printers and the Government. The American Bookbinder urges the printers of the country to support Congressman Scott's bill repealing the law which authorizes the postmaster general to have return requests printed on

It appears that the government sells annually about 250,000,000 printed envelopes. The cost of this printing is about one dollar a thousand, and the government is therefore competing with our printers to the extent of about $250,000 year.

It is contended that this is unjust because it introduces into the field of private enterprise a species of competition which private enterprise is not prepared to meet. Possibly it is unconstitutional. If the government can print envelopes without charge, why can it not fur nish free of cost anything necessary to facilitate postal communication?

The government should, if anything, encourage private industry, but in this case it is a competitor against it. The principle of the thing irritates the printers more than the amount of money involved. It strikes us that they are in the right. Wherever it is consistent with the public welfare the citizen should be left free to work for a livelihood without having to meet the dangerous competition of the government.

It's most time to go sweet-gum hunting. The big bull frog in the branch has be gun to practice on his trombone. Mr. Charles Kiely Shetterly, of Utica, Mich., sends us a poem, entitled "Dreami." o' Home," signs his name to it, and says if we will put his name on the "free list" will send us others. There is nothing the matter with the poem. It was written by Frank Stanton and originally printed in The Constitution. Mr. Shetterly should send his stealings to the magazines. Very few papers run a literary "fence."

The blue birds are feeling around for summer residence. The sparrow-hawk is ready to say "Bless you, my pretty dears! Be happy.

The heart leaves are beginning to bask the sunshine, and the little "jugs" at their roots are brimful of dew. Who cares for politics, when the perfum

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

There are twenty well-built towns in Kansas without a single inhabitant to waken the echoes of their deserted streets. Saratoga has a $30,000 opera house, a large brick hotel, a $20,000 school house and a number of fine business houses, yet there is nobody even to claim a place to sleep. At Fargo a $20,000 schoolhouse stands on the side of the hill, a monument to the bond-voting craze. A herder and his family constitute the sole popula-tion of what was once an incorporated city. efficiency have won her the unstinted approba tion of all her employers.

Yesterday Mrs. Hampton left the service of the exchange under circumstances of a peculiar and of a somewhat political nature. Mrs. Hampton's connection with the exchange began under the administration of Colonel Livingston more than a year ago. She was in his employ as long as he remained in Atlanta, and after he left she secured a restition eleganters. She returned the control of the na Atlanta, and after no let see section all position elsewhere. She returned to the exchange early this year as stenographer to Colonel Peek.

But when the third party was formed—Mrs. Hampton tells the story—Colonel Peek was for several days dumb. He made no outspoken endorsement of the action of the conference; he was non-committal.

Change.
To this rumor Colonel Peek had the following denial signed by the bookkeeper, and two salesmen of the exchange:
Atlanta, Ga., April 4, 1892.—Editor Constitution: We, the undersigned employes of the alliance exchange, notice an article in your morning edition which does Colonel W. L. Peek, president and manager, a very great injustice. In the article referred to it is said that no one who is not for the third party will be allowed to remain in the employ of the exchange. We desire to say that we know nothing of any such action, and feel at perfect liberty to express our views on political, religious or any other subject. The requirements made of us are that we attend closely to our basiness and look after the interest of the exchange in a purely business-manner, and up to this time no complaint has been made against either of us, although his rules are very strict.

In addition to the above, Colonel Peek has never uttered the above said rumors to me nor approached me on my political views since I have been in his employ.

Editor Constitution—My name as one of the employes of the exchange, does not appear, to the denial of Colonel Peek. I feel that the reflection denial of Colonel Feek. I feel that the reflection upon my veracity, contained therein, is just a little more than I propose to bear. That I may make my position clear in the matter, please allow me to make the following statement:

On February 1st, I was employed by Colonel Peek as 2-nographer to the Farmers' Alliance exchange. Our agreement was that Colonel Peek was to give me thirty days notice. At first he employed me per mently, but a few minutes after this agreement was that Colonel Peek was to give me thirty days notice. At first he fampling ared, he would give me thirty days' notice. The property of the colonel Peek was to give me thirty days' notice. The property of the colone perfect harmony until after the St. Louis convention. Being his stenographer, I was, of course, in a position to know his views. A few days after the convention he was approached by Mr. C. C. Post accompanied Mr. A. G. Daniels with a circular to be signed. This was the beginning of the third party move in Georgia. Mr. Post laid out his plans for immediate action, which was that Colonel Peek must declare for the third party at once. To this Colonel Peek demurred, as he wanted to wait for a few days, but after some urging by his best man, Mr. A. G. Daniel, he signed the circular which put the third party on foot in Georgia. This was a circular signed by him and Daniels, and then sent to other men to be signed. It was returned, the signing of it was claimed to be the endorsement of the St. Louis conference by the various suballiances. It was signed by individuals and published as volunter expression from the alliances.

nals and published as volunter expression from the alliances.

In the position I occupied, of course, I heard the tweirth plank—the pension plank, frequently discussed, and heard enough to show that it is in the platform, and which their leaders do not deny except to those they do not feel sure of. I expressed myself as not being in sympathy with the movement and was told by Mr. Fulton, in a kindly spirit, that I would lose my place, for some one was heard to remark that I was too pronunced in views to be allowed to stay in the office. I drew the inference that the remark was made not by Colonel Peek, but by his spokesman, A. G. Daniel.

Daniel. Tees, but by ms spokesman, A. G. Daniel.

Ten days ago a letter was received from one of the finance committee, Mr. Pearce, suggesting that Colonel Peek cut down his expenses by getting rid of his stenographer. Colonel Peek showed me the letter, but said that it was impossible for him to do so, as he could not do the writing of the office. Nothing more was said until March 31st, when he told me he needed me no longer, and asked if I did not consider the Pearce letter the thirty days notice. I said "no;" and he said, "well, you will leave on May 1st."

Today he asked me about the article in The Constitution, and I told him I knew nothing of how it originated. He then asked me to sign a denial of it, which I refused, as I could not do so truthfully, knowing that such reports were current.

This closes my connection with the alliance.

This closes my connection with the alliance exchange, and all because I was not in sympathy with the third party. Anything to the contrary is untrue. I was told by Colonel Peek that my work was perfectly satisfactory, and I know a stenographer is needed at the exchange.

MRS. HAMPTON.

It is but just to Mrs. Hampton to say that the rumors first published in The Constitution did not come from her, but came from an employe at alliance headquarters. ABOUT THIS TOWN.

"I think the newspapers ought to take up the cudgel in behalf of us who live in the suburbs," said a prominent resident of Inman Park yesterday. "We out in Inman Park need better protection than we get, and we believe we deserve it. A few evenings ago what seemed to be a drunken mob took possession out there and succeeded admirably in making night hideous. Friday night some person or persons absolutely depleted the beautiful hyacinth beds, which have been the pride of the park, pulling the plants up by the roots. I never see a policeman out our way, and we pay heavy taxes, too."

On Thursday evening Mr. Harry E. Reeves will deliver a lecture at music hall, 37½ Peachtree street, on "Voice Culture, Teachers and Charlatans." There will be no charge for admission.

The committee recommended that local organizations on each line of road be formed and that each organization appoint a committee of three to be known as the executive committee, with power to act; that these committees form themselves into a genera! executive committee with headquar ters in Macon, and elect a secretary with office in Macon, through whom they will manage the entire lumber business of Geor-

The report of the committee was adopted, and local organizations will be formed at once, after which the executive committee will meet in Macon, on April 19th, at 10 o'clock, to elect a president and six vice presidents and a secretary from their number. The plan proposed for handling this immense lumber business is to have all orders come direct to the secretary at the head office in Macon. The secretary will distribute these orders out to the different head office in Macon. The secretary will distribute these orders out to the different mills, seeing that all of them are kept busy, and being perfectly impartial in the placing of those orders. The price will be uniform, and will be fixed by the executive committee. The present combine is intended to do away with these commission merchants or middle men, because it gives them nothing to do, inasmuch as all the mills cut exclusively for the exchange in Macon.

All of the mills being members of this association or combine it will be left to the executive mittee to order such as necessity require To d · this they will consult with the diffe ent mill owners, ascertaining from them what amount they will require for a shut down of ten, twenty or thirty days. The amount being fixed all other neils in the association will be assessed by the executive committee their pro rata to pay this amount, each mill paying in proportion to size.

Macon's Advantage

Macon has come in for her share through today's deliberations in being made the headquarters of the Georgia Lumberman Association. This means the establish-ment in Macon of the lumber exchange or central commission house, representing the entiree lumber interest of Georgia, with a business of $40,000,000 annually handling handling through this city. It means the location here of large offices with a corps of clerks, bookkeepers and other attaches to conduct this great business.

RAIDING A DEN.

The Police of Thomasville Make a Good Haul of Gamblers.

Thomasville, Ga., April 4.—(Special.)— The police were in it last night. For some time, a tough saloon on Jackson street, in what is known as "the bottom," has been under suspicion of being a gambling den. Sheriff Doss, Chief Spair and Policemen Biggs, Sanford anil Gordon raided the place last night. Fourteen were in the den. The following were caught with the money before them: Joe King, Thomas Thompson, Jeff Scott, Bill Donaldson, Marcus Harris, Tom Everett Mitchell, Joe Sturges, Tom King and Will Davis. The officers had the drop on the party, and, being taken by surprise, made no resistance. They were placed in jail until this morning, when all were tried before Judge Mitchell for gambling. Harrison Richardson, alias "Big Six," had been up on the same charge only a short time before. He was fined $125 and costs, or six months on the chaingang. The others were given $40 and costs or a similar term. Some of the gamblers were held on the additional charge of carrying concealed weapons, and will be given a case in the police court for playing cards on Sunday. Joe King, one of the prisoners, is the same negro who was arrested and taken to Macon a few days ago, by United States Marshal Avant, for counterfeiting. A revolution in the conduct of the city government it will be beyond a doubt.

But it can't take place until July, 1893 than a year yet.

Mr. Woodward, chairman of the joint committee, legislation and salary, faced a weary and well-worn audience, when at with the tail of the session he came to his rect with the report of his committee on the question of perquisites. As Mr. Woodward ame up, he lifted from his desk a pile of tail of the session he came to his feet

"I have here," he said, "the report of the committee on legislation and the salary committee on the matter of perquisites." Then, with a heavy sigh, he unrolled a yard or two of a lawyer's red tape from the papers. One, a huge affair of many sheets and many words, he retained, while the others he laid upon his desk. "First," he said, "I'll read the report of the joint committee.' That paper gave the history of the reference of the question to the two committees. hen the next chapter involved the work of that secret session where the report was made up. The lines presented an ordinance which the council was asked to adopt.

That ordinance provided that the clerk to the general council should be paid a salary of $2,400 a year, instead of fees, and that he should be given a clerk with $1,200 that he should be given a clerk with $1,200 salary. It provided, too, that the marshal's fees should be cut off, and that he be given a salary of $3,600 a year, out of which to pay his own expenses. The report—the language used in it—doubted somewhat the advisability of dispensing with the services of the marshal, but called for the legislation necessary to do so, and in the same paragraph transferred the duties of the marshal, after the change, upon the tax collector.

The alderman began reading—but the story he read was old; everybody around that horseshoe bend had read it.

I wasn't in favor of abolishing the marshal's office because I have thought it essential. Still I guess we can get along without it. It's a good office and I had thought that 'twould be better to pay a salary and add fees to it. But that just a salary and add fees to it. But that just a salary and add fees to it. But that just how did not pay that tax promptly. "I think I shall tote for the report," said Mr. Meador, "but it appears to me that this work is being too quickly done. this list they will confer a favor by letting us know.

The other curious affair is that any number of figures multiplied by 9 and the figures forming the answer added together will make a 9. To illustrate, 4,876 multiplied by 9 gives 43,884. Add the figures in the answer together, and you will find that the 4, 3, 8, 8 and 4 make 27; now add the 2 and 7 together, and you have 9. This will hold good with any number of figures when multiplied by 9.

Love, Marriage, Estrangement and Separation.

The world is a stage of tragedies, and the calm and cheerful sunlight of life's brightest dream of today may be overshadowed on the morrow by the storm clouds of passion, and the sorrows that ever and anon sweep over the temple of the human soul and leave it bereft of hope and frenzied with despair. Recently there was a brilliant marriage in high life that betokened a serene and prosperous journey for bride and groom over earth's fleeting sands. Alas, how fallible are human calculations. Though the nuptial ties of these two luminaries of the social world were celebrated under auspices that might have been expected to lend the charm of enchantment to every state of life's voyage and flavor it with the fragrance and freshness of fadeless love, spectral shadows soon crossed the rose scented threshold of their domestic felicity. The handsome groom, once radiant with the sunlight of cheer, grew cynical and morose, and the beautiful and accomplished bride sorrowful and lachrymose. Henceforth they seemed to avoid each other, so complete had become the estrangement. When they encountered each other at the daily meals, so obvious was their embarrassment and the certainty that an ugly skeleton lurked in their domestic closet that it was painful to witness the evident distrust with which they regarded each other. Finally estrangement led to indifference, indifference to separation. The groom renounced the dream that once lighted with consuming fires the altar of love and the healthful restraint that a blissful union imposes, and resorted to the fatal influences of the "flowing bowl," while the heart-broken bride, with the aroma of orange blossoms lingering in her raven tresses, sought oblivion from the anguish of disappointed hopes in the dissipations of society.

Medical skill alone solved the problem that was the incentive to this sad estrangement and separation. Unwholesome food producing indigestion, dyspepsia, and irritability of disposition, so that it became impossible the wheat market was weak owing to lower cables. The principal decline came from Liverpool and Berlin, those markets being very much depressed owing to the opening of navigation and ability to obtain freights at lower rates. Later in the day our market became firm due principally to the general demand for cash wheat throughout the country, both for domestic and foreign purposes. This we think will, be the controling feature in the near future. Corn and onts were very much neglected, fairly good domestic demand in a general way, some pretty good buying of the former by speculators who believe the receips will not be equal to the demand for May delivery around 40c. There was very little interest and no feature in the provision market. The usual amount of cash business was done for domestic and foreign purposes. Speculators were not doing anthing.

vance, however, there seemed to be a fair amount of cotton for sale, and gradually prices sagged off, closing nearly at bottom figures. The report that New Orleans would receive 16,000 to 11,000 bales tomorrow had no great bearing upon prices, as the same had already declined, and it was generally known that these large receipts were owing to the liberal shipments from

Memphis, whence the cotton comes. In fact, the arge loss in stock at the interior points last week ought to give us fair port receipts, both this and next week. Other than the above there was no feature that transpired today, and but for the same we should probably have had a much duller market than the already very quiet one that we have just passed through. We can hardly understand the selling, but

THE CHICAGO MARKET. Features of the Speculative Movement in Grain and Provisions.

CHICAGO, April 4.—There was a decided novelty in Chicago today—a bullish grain market from a variety of causes. While a sale or so was reported at 78½0 at the opening, there were other salee at the time in different parts of the pit at 78@78½0, and in a short time touched 77%c, but the decline started some good buying, and the market began to harden. The shorts co ered freely and the scalpers bought, resulting in a steady advance to 79c, eased off some and at 12 o'clock was lower prices at the yards. Compared with last night May pork is off 12%c, lard 5c and ribs 7%c. Tomorrow being a legal holiday there will be no session of the board of trade.

New Orleans adivees seem inclined to depreciate the importance of the fire as a bull argument, and say that the probable salvage will be large. For tomorrow a full movement seems in prospect, New Orleans getting from 11,000 to 12,000 bales. Unquestionably, however, the port receipts are largely at the expense of the interior towns, and the planttaion de-liveries for the week do not promise to be much larger than last week. Aside from the fresh speculation that the fire has induced there is but little of interest to report in connection with our market today. As a class the trade seems disposed to wait upon news of the planting and progress of the crop, and as nothing definite upon this subject can be known until after the first of May, it does not seem reasonable to look for much change until after that date. During the last hour it was reported that wheat is not growing as vigerously as the weather would indicate that it should; and was apparently lacking in vitality. May responded with an advance to 784c followed by a reaction of 1/c and a steady close. Business in the corn pit was of the slimmest proportions, but the feeling was firm, and prices wound up with a slight improvement. Fluctuations were confined to-range of 1/20. Moist and warm weather in the west was a prominent factor.

GRIZZLED AND GRAY.

Thirty Thousand Veterans Will Gather in New Orleans Friday.

AN IMPOSING GATHERING IT WILL BE.

Old and Lame and Battle Scarred, and Bent They Have Grown, but They Cling To Their Memories.

Thirty thousand! veterans grizzled and gray, men of history and with histories, battle-scarred, but brave as lions still—survivors of the bloody battles of an hundred hills. They will meet at New Orleans on next

And a more imposing assembly than they will make never met together, since Columbus landed on these shores.

They will afford a theme for the poet, for the historian, for the musician and for the less rohistorian, for the musician and for the less romantic newspaper writer.

The occasion will be the annual convention of the United Confederate Veterans.

Over thirty thousand delegates will be there, and the way they will talk of battle scenes and camp reminiscences will be at once an inspiration and an aspiration.

General John B. Gordon, the gallant hero, will preside at the convention, he being the general commanding.

Atlanta Will Be There. For the first time since the organization of the United Confederate Veterans' Associa-tion Atlanta will have delegates at the convention.

It was determined by the local organization of veterans in Atlanta to join the united association about three weeks ago, and Colonel W. L. Calhoun, president and commander, has appointed delegates to the convention.

The delegates are as follows: John McIntosh Kell, J. William Jones, George B. Forbes, bes, A. J. West, W. D. Ellis, K. C. Divine, Martin Nally, W. B. Burke, C. Jordan, J. J. Barnes, G. W. Adair, Amos Fox, John A. Miller, Henry R. Powers, William M. Durham, C. D'Alvigny, Joseph H. Morgan, James A. Anderson, S. H. Landrum, W. L. Calhoun. Colone! Calhoun has issued the following

J. F. EDWARDS, Secretary, What Will Be Done.

What Will Be Done.

The convention at New Orleans will be the largest and by far the most important the confederate veterans have held since Appomattox. Matters pertaining to the history of the war will be discussed, and measures for the relief of indigent veterans will be taken.

General Gordon's address, which has been published in circular form and extensively distributed, throws a ray of light upon the published in circular form and extensively distributed, throws a ray of light upon the objects of organization.

It is as follows:
To the ex-Soldiers and Sallors of the Late Confederate States of America:
The convention of delegates wich assembled in New Orleans June 10. 1889, effected a general organization designed as the United Confederate Veterans. It is designed as an association of all the bodies of ex-confederate veterans and sallors throughout the union. The convention adopted a constitution and did me the great honor to elect me general, which position I accept with peculiar gratification. Preliminity ito the issue of any orders I wish to call general attention to the objects of this association and to enlist in their accomplishment the active co-operation not only of every survivor of the southern armies, but also that large contingent of sons of veterans, who, too young to have received the baptism of fire, have nevertheless received with you the baptism of suffering and sarrifice.

The first article of the constitution of the asso-

The first article of the constitution of the asso-itation declares: "The object and purpose of this organization will be strictly social, literary, his-orical and benevolent. It will endeavor to unite n a general federation all associations of the onfederate veterans, soldiers and sailors, now in xistence or hereafter to be formed; to gather au-hentic data for an impartial history of the war etween the states; to preserve the relies and sementoes of the same; to cherish the ties of riendship that should exist among the men who ave shared common dangers, common suffering ave shared common dangers, common suffering ndiprivations; to care for the disabled and exnd a helping hand to the needy; to protect the dow and orphan and to make and preserve a cord of the service of every member, so far as ssible, of those of our comrades who have pre-led us in eternity."

eded us in eternity."

The last article declares that neither discussion of the last article declares the last article declare of political or religious subjects nor any political action shall be permitted in the organization, and any association violating that provision shall forfeit its membership.

Comrades, no argument is needed to secure for those objects your enthusiastic endorsement. They have burdened your thoughts for many years, you have cherished them in sorrow, poverty and humiliation. In the face of misconstruction you have held them in your hearts with the strength of religious convictions. No misjudgments can defeat your peaceful purposes for the future. Your aspirations have been lifted by the mere force and urgency of surrounding conditions to a plane far above the paltry consideration of partisan trumphs, the honor of the American republic, the just powers of the federal government, the equal rights of states, the integrity of the constitutional union, the sanctions of law and enforcement of order have no class of defenders more true and devoted than the ex-soldiers of the south and their worthy descendants. But you realize the great truth that a people without the memories of heroic suffering and sacrifices are Good Objects.

A People Without a History. A People Without a History.

To cherish such memories and recall such a past, whether crowned with success or consecrated in defeat, is to idealize principle and strength of character, intensify love of country and convert defeat and disaster into pillars of support for future manhood and noble womanhood. Whether the sochern people, under their changed conditions, may ever hope to witness another civilization which shall equalize that which began with their Washington and ended with their Lee, it is certainly true that devotion to theirglorious past is not only the surest guarantee of future progress and the holiest bond of unity, but is also the strongest claim they can present to the confidence and respect of the other sections of the union.

Non-Political.

In conclusion I beg to repeat, in substance at least, a few thoughts recently expressed by me to the state organization, which apply with equal force to this general brotherhood.

It is political in no sense except so far as the word "political" is a synonym of the word "patriotic." It is a brotherhood over which the genius of sphilanthropy and patriotism, of truth and of justice will preside; of sphilanthropy, because it will succor the disabled, help the needy, strengthen the weak and cheer the discoussolate; of patriotism, because it will cherish the past glories of the dead confederacy and transmute them into living inspirations for future service to the living republic of truth, because it will seek ogather and preserve as winch shall doom falsehood to die that truth may live; of justice, because it will cultivate national as well as southern fraternity and will condemn narrow mindedness and prejudice and passion, and cultivate the broader, higher, nobler sentiment, which would write on the grave of every soldier who fell on either side: "Here lies a hero, a martyr to the right as his conscience conceived it."

General Organization.

I rejoice that a general organization too long neglected has been at last perfected. It is a brotherhood which all honorable men must approve and which heaven itself will bless. I call upon you therefore to organize in every state and community where ex-confederates may reside and rally to the support of the high and peaceful object of "United Confederate Veterans," and move forward until by the power of organization and persistent effort your beneficent and Christian purposes are fully accomplished.

J. B. GORDON,
Commanding General.

Every attention will be shown this grand gathering of battle-worn veterans by the people of New Orleans, and its actions will be noted with interest.

They are getting gray—are these old header the state of General Organization

They are getting gray—are these old heoses. Time, and the hardship which they have andured, have bent their forms and furrowed their cheeks, but they have lost none of their ald-time spirits. They cling to the blest memries of the wartimes, but there are no more oval, no more devoted and patriotic citizens if this common country than they.

Thirty thousand of these interesting old across will be a sight to attract the eyes of attors.

THE BOARD OF CONTROL

int Meeting of the Officers of the Important Meeting of the Officers of the Hebrew Orphans' Home.

The annual meeting of the board of control of the Hebrew Orphans' Home was held at the home on Washington street, yesterday. The members present were Hon. Simon Wolf, of Washington, chairman; Henry Adler, of Washington, secretary; Joseph Hirsch, of Atlanta; A. E. Weil, of Savannah; J. I. Macks, of Wilmington, N. C.; Caron Bragg and W. Daniels, of Baltimore; H. C. Cohen, of Augusta; W. Weil, of Goldsboro, N. C., and Max Cohen, of Washington. The members of the local board of managers were also present by invitation.

The reports of the officers of the board of control, and also those of the local board, were read. The board was in issession during the entire day, and transacted considerable business. The terms of the three members of the local board—D. Kaufman and H. Cronheim, of Atlanta, and J. Danenberg, of Macon—expired with this meeting, and these gentlemen were re-elected for another term of three years. It being decided to increase the number of members of the local board, Messrs. Isaac Liebman, Jr., Max Kutz and D. Rich were added to the board.

The financial affairs of the home, as well as everything appertaining to that institution, were found in excellent condition. It was decided to build an addition to the home for the accommodation of the increased demands for admission, as soon as the necessary arrangements can be made.

THE HORSE THIEF RUN DOWN. He Is Shot to Death in Sight of the Congre

Raleigh, N. C., April 4.—(Special.)—A pecial tonight states that in Wilkes county Julius D. Miller, one of the best known and nost active revenue officers in the state, was murdered by a young man named Mitchell, who is a horse thief, and who stole a horse from C.H. Baker, in Marion County, Tennessee Baker pursued and trailed Mitchell nearly to Wilkes county and then lost the trail. He induced Miller to take it up, and the latter came up with the rapidly moving robber at a church, where services were in progress, and where many people were gathered. A re-volver duel followed causing the wildest excitement. Miller was shot in the head and died in a few minutes. The murderer abandoned the stolen horse and fled on foot into the woods.

The Colquitt County Triplets.

From The Albany, Ga., Herald.

The Colquitt county triplets, of which mention was recently made, were in the city yesterday, and were exhibited in front of the store of S. B. and were exhibited in front of the store of S. B. Brown, on Broad street, where they were visited and admired by hundreds of people. The triplets were in charge of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Bass, who live in Colquitt county. The trio consists of two girls and a boy, Elemore, Beatrice and Roscoe. They are seven months old, and are as fat and healthy looking children as one would wish to see. The mother and father of this interesting trio of babies are naturally very proud of them, and Mr. B. Brown induced them to bring them to town yesterday. Mr. and Mrs. Bass have four other children. The triplets were the recipients of many little attentions, and were Bass have route of their children. The triplets were the recipients of many little attentions, and were also given a number of presents. The Herald man who interviewed them ordered a nice dress for each at the store of S. B. Brown, and presented them in the name of The Herald.

The Deshon Opera Company. The following notice of The Augusta Herald of April 2d, will give to the readers of The Constitution a good idea of the merits of the Deshon Opera Company, which is to begin a season very soon at the opera house with a repertoire of fifteen plays.

soon at the opera house with a repertoire of fifteen plays:

"The Deshon Opera Company has been a great success, and although many persons were debarred from attending the performances on account of Lent, the house was crowded night after night, and unany persons had to be turned away.
Cheap prices drew throngs, and the artistic work done was such as we have been accustomed to get from dollar shows. Indeed, there are dollar shows that do not please as well as the Deshon company. We have critics among us, but when all was so excellent, criticism had little employment, and yielded to cheerful praise. Success at Augusta means a prosperous tour everywhere at the south, and, in that case, it is not necessary for the papers to deal in the ordinary 'puff' to be guile public patronage. The Deshon company draws because it deserves to do so, and it will always command the endorsement of this city."

The commercial men are waiting patiently for the commission's decision on the mileage book question. It is not likely that there will be a decision for some time yet.

In the bosom of the wild mountains of Rabun, within sound of the roaring falls of Oceanica and the Bridal Veil, two railroad presidents met yesterday morning and came to blows.

On Sunday morning The Constitution told of the Blue Ridge and Atlantic's experience with receivers. President Bailey Thomas of that road and President E. Summerfield, of the Toledo and Ohio Central extension, figured in the article as they had done in the proceedings over the receivership. Mr. Summerfield went up to Tallulah on Sunday and early yesterday morning he prepared to return to Atlanta. While waiting for the train he walked up and down the platform, Judge Thomas went over to him and they stepped off to one side and engaged in a private conversation. They became more and more earnest in their talk and in the course of a few minutes Judge Thomas denounced some statement of Mr. Summerfield's as "a — lie."

Thereupon Mr. Summerfield struck the Blue Ridge and Atlantic's president. The latter is a man of average height and weight, whereas the president of the Toledo and Ohio Central extension weighs 250 pounds. After the first exchange of blows Judge Bailey sprang forward to re-

HIS BODY IN THE TALLAPOOSA RIVER.

The Mystery Surrounding the Absence of Richard Byrns Solved-Was He Murdered for His Money?

Four bullet holes in the head of a man found in the Tallapoosa river tell the story of the murder of an aged Atlantian. The murdered man was Richard Byrne. well known in the city.

Byrne is a peddler and has been living on Formwalt street. Three weeks ago he left the city for a trip through the western part of the state. His wife heard nothing from him but his friends were not particu-larly anxious as to his whereabouts, believing that he would turn up all right. Not a word came until Sunday night. Ther it came in a telegram from the coroner of Haralson county who stated that Byrne s body had been found in the river.

Mr. C. P. Johnson, the brother-in-law of the dead man, went at once to Tallapoosa,

Mr. C. F. Johnson, the brother-m-iaw of the dead man, went at once to Tallapoosa, taking with him Undertaker Bliley.

"I found," said Mr. Johnson upon his return last evening, "that the body had been buried there. The evidence before the coroner's jury showed that the body had been in the river for eighteen days before it was discovered. There were four bullet holes in his face, showing plainly that he had been murdered.

"The country about there is thickly settled. The murder must have occurred on the big road between two houses not a quarter of a mile apart. It was evidently for the purpose of robbery, Byrne's money, watch and goods being taken."

The county authorities of Haralson county will doubtless offer a reward for the murderer or murderers, and application will be made to Governor Northen to offer an additional reward. The authorities of Tallapoosa and Haralson county have a clue which may lead to the discovery of the murderers.

Byrne was about fifty years old. He Alexander streets yesterday, shortly after noon.

Three of them were easily gotten out. The fourth, a negro by the name of Bright Strickland, was dead when extricated.

His body was taken to Howard's undertaking establishment, where an inquest was held by Coroner Davis yesterday afternoon. The verdict reached was that the negro came to his death from asphyxia.

A recommendation was made by the jury that the police be instructed to prevent children from gathering about excavated places, where pipes are being laid. School children especially, it seems, congregate on their way from school and annoy the foreman, who cannot attend to his work as he could otherwise.

The jury did not attach blame in the accident of yesterday one way or the other.
